DEAD IN THE WRECK

Terrible Railroad Casualty Near Birmingham, Ala.

Long List of Frightfully Injured Passengers.

[SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.]
BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Oct. 22.—A fatal wreck occurred a few miles out on the Kansas City, Memphis and Birmingham road late last night.
A westbound train started out, leaving the sleeping-car behind.

It had gone six miles before the mistake was discovered. Backing towards the town to pick up the sleeper the train collided with a freight, causing a terrible wreck.

Several people in the rear coach were fatally injured, and a number of others terribly hurt.

Following is a list of the injured:

Mr. W. E. Wagner, and two children of Greenville, S. C.

L. O. Franklin, drummer from Nashville.

GEORGE W. DAVIS, Shell Mound, Tenn., leg broken and otherwise hurt.
J. H. FINNEL, of New Orleans, back hurt.
J. A. TAYLOR, Magnolia, Ark., head smashed and eye knocked out.
W. B. FLANIGAN, of Memphis, slightly hurt.
J. C. BURTON, of Cordova, Ala., scalded and badly injured.
J. A. and J. M. BEARD, of Nauvoo, Ala., internally hurt.
E. P. BORG, of Lima, Ala., arm broken.

Rev. H. G. SMITH, of Jasper, ribs broken and dangerously hurt.
 Dr. JANFORD, of Hot Springs, Ark., slightly injured.
 A. L. HILL, of Birmingham, hurt,
 slightly.
 H. M. LONG, of Cordova, bruised on ankle.
 M. TOWLER and WALTER TOWLER, of Towline, Ala., slightly injured.
 Four or five dead are reported to be under the wreck, but the names are not yet ascertained.
 The night was blustery and rainy.

The injured have been brought to this city.

BREWER RUBSAM STRICKEN.

Died of Apoplexy Just After Entertaining Friends.

Joseph Rubsam, the well-known brewer and head of the Staten Island brewing firm of Rubsam & Hoffmann, died of apoplexy soon after midnight this morning.

Mr. Rubsam was born in Germany fifty-eight years ago. He learned the brewing business abroad and came to America in 1853 as foreman for George Bechtel, who then had a big brewery on Staten Island.

Rubens saved his money and by prudent investments doubled and redoubled his earnings.

In 1870 he formed a copartnership with August Herrmann and bought out the Atlantic Brewery in Stapleton.

Mr. Rubens visited the German baths last Spring in search of health and returned only to the favor.

He entertained a party of friends at his home last night and appeared to be in excellent spirits.

At 11 o'clock he retired, and soon afterwards complained of feeling ill.

Dr. James Odes, who lives across the street, was summoned at 11.45. By that time Mr. Rubsam was fast passing away. He feebly pressed the doctor's hand and the next instant he was gone.

Mr. Rubsam was a popular man. He was a Freemason and belonged to Klobstock Lodge F. & A. M., the Arion Society, the Staten Island Schutzen Corps, and other well-known organizations.

Mr. Rubsam leaves a large fortune, vari-usually estimated between $1,000,000 and $2,000,000.

43 MILES IN 40 MINUTES.

The Wild Ride of a Switchman on a Runaway Car.

[SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.]

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Oct. 22.—A. B. Newstead, a Burlington switchman at the yards here, had a thrilling experience yesterday. He was on a box car which was "kicked" violently out on the main line in making a dying switch.

The brake was broken, and in a moment Newsstead realized that he was in for a wild ride down grade to Grover, Col., a distance of over forty miles.

He clutched all the chances and concluded to keep his seat on the hurricane deck. There were no trains on the road and cattle kept off the track.

The car ran three miles beyond Grover in exactly forty minutes.
Newstead thought a dozen times that it would jump the track, but it stuck to the rails to the end.

HOTEL MARTIN'S SUICIDE.

Young Artist Mamaroo's Ill-Luck
Drove Him Insane.

Coroner Levy to-day sent a despatch to Mrs. and Miss Robinson at the Oxford Hotel, Boston, notifying them of the death of young Albert Mazaroz, who committed suicide at the Hotel Martin yesterday and left to them all his property.

It turns out that Mazaroz, who was a handsome and highly cultivated man of thirty years, is the son of a wealthy member of the French Chamber of Deputies, who squandered his fortune as a gambler and dissipated his life as a pleasure-loving and dissipated man.

designer in wood and is supposed to have become temporarily insane through ill-success in obtaining employment.

He had applied for positions at the offices of Hous & Co. and Alland & Sons on Fifth avenue, after which he bought a cabin berth on the City of Berlin, which sailed to-day.

Fire's Destructive Work.
SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.

Lumber Works were destroyed by fire, shortly

Very Nice to Mr. Tom Gould.
Tom Gould, the alleged fire-keeper at Sixth avenue and Twenty-third street, was before the Excise Commissioners to-day to show cause why his saloon license should not be revoked, but because of the absence of one of his witnesses he got the case postponed until Friday morning.
